Peter J. Bellini - United Theological Seminary

TEACHING AND RESEARCH

Dr. Bellini is Professor of Church Renewal and Evangelization in the Heisel Chair at United Theological Seminary. Dr. B. as his students call him, is an interdisciplinary theologian, researching, writing, teaching at the intersection of theology, philosophy, and the science. He teaches courses in Church Renewal, Evangelization, Global Charismatic Studies, Interreligious and Intercultural Encounter, Philosophy, and Pastoral Care and Counseling. His foci in Church Renewal are the person and work of the Holy Spirit. His main interest in evangelization is power evangelism (deliverance and healing) and discipleship.

As an interdisciplinary theologian, his interests are in Trinitarian theology and applied pneumatology in practical areas, such as holiness, prayer, healing and mental health, cognitive neuroscience, philosophy of mind, deliverance, discipleship. Dr. Bellini also researches and writes on renewal movements, such as early Methodism, the Holiness movement, the Pentecostal-Charismatic movements, and the current Global South renewal.
